ATV Tour to Moray & Maras Salt Mines

dirt roads between inca terraces and mountains of salt

DURATION	DIFFICULTY	MAX. ALTITUDE	BEST SEASON
Full day	Easy	3,500 m	Apr — Oct

The Maras plateau, high above the Sacred Valley, is perfect ATV country: dirt roads between fields of potatoes, quinoa and barley, with the snowcapped Urubamba range ahead. On this half day you drive your own ATV to Moray, the circular terraces the Incas used to study crops at different temperatures. After a guided visit to Moray we return to the base and continue by vehicle to the Maras Salt Mines, since ATVs are no longer allowed there. You walk the viewpoints above thousands of salt pools that local families have worked since pre-Hispanic times, and on the way back we stop at a local market or shop. There are morning and afternoon departures. At around 3,500 m, it's an excellent activity for your first days of acclimatization. Entrance fees for Moray and the salt mines are paid separately.
